Publisher's Preface

DEAR COUSINS:

I am not going to write a lengthy preface, but will just tell you how I started in on this work. First, I found a package of old and yellowed papers, tied carefully together, which, on opening, I found to be the Key to the answer to a question I had often asked my father when I was a child; it was, "Haven't you some cousins, papa?" (None were ever known to me.) His answer always was what a busy man's usually is, and suggested he didn't have time to explain, "Yes, lots of them, but they're away out West."

By the contents of this package I found father had four uncles and three aunts who married. That suggested there might have been lots of cousins, and I made the endeavor to find out about them and succeeded far beyond my expectation. You will find the result if you begin at the family of Benjamin² and follow it out. Only one own cousin of his was then (1903) living. In that search Mr. Rix helped me, as he has also helped in the records of this book by compiling and sending me all that he had of this branch of the family. I have added many new ones found in the last six months, and where corrections were sent have corrected if they were not previously done by Mr. Rix.

Some Records that I found could not be verified, as I have been unable to get the families interested. Such have, therefore, been compared with other collected records of the family and will be indicated as shown in the list of abbreviations on page 5.

I trust you will glean from the following pages as much pleasure and encouragement as I have in this work, to be (what I feel sure Grandpa Dea. Joseph Eastman would say to us to be) "Quit you like men, be strong," and I am sure we have many examples of brave, sturdy men, who have proved it is possible for us to be helpers and workers in Life's great battlefield. Let us hope that the Circle gathered above this world may know even now that we are true to the trust they have in us, for we know that our dear ones will eagerly push aside the veil that hides them from our view when we come to leave this world, and by and by take us to see dear Grandpa and Grandma Eastman, who joined hands November 22, 1711, for, as every father and mother knows, they love the grandchildren. No matter how many generations removed, we are all their grandchildren still.

Sincerely your cousin,

M. EMILY EASTMAN.

Introduction

In this Introduction, of what one thing to tell you of Hadley I hardly know. It is so closely associated with the early home of our ancestors, and it has, to me, a certain charm I know not how to express, as of one long absent returning to his own old home. There is rest and peace and content in the very air. It is surrounded by hills, not the least of which is Mt. Tom, that stands like a sentinel on guard, keeping watch over the towns that look out all the beautiful summer-time, and see at night the lights that shine far from its topmost point.

In the years long, long ago no lights shone there, but a band of sturdy, brave-hearted men came hither seeking a home in the wilderness. A wild country it was, with dangers from natives and beasts of prey. Their first petition for this home was made May 20, 1658; the Agreement or Engagement April 18, 1659. Of these men three were our ancestors—Peter Tilton, Lieut. Samuel Smith and William Partridge. To these three only will I refer you, though many of those named in this work claim ancestors in other members of that band of fifty-nine Engagers. All these who are descendants of Dea. Joseph Eastman and wife are through them descendants of these three men, and as I know you will want to know of the first Eastmans I have also added that. What I have of the first three families is mostly gleaned from the History of Hadley, a book well worth owning, and still to be secured from the reprint published in 1905, by Huntting & Co., of Springfield.

1. Hon. Peter Tilton came to Hadley from Windsor, Conn. The place he occupied in the town and surrounding towns was one of the first. He took the freeman's oath March 26, 1661; was Recorder, or Town Clerk, in Hadley from 1661-1693; Deputie, or Representative, to the State, 1665, 1666, 1668-1670-1680; Townsman, or Selectman, 1670, 1674, 1677, 1679, 1687. In 1663 he is referred to as Deacon. On the 26th of March, 1669, he, with Nathaniel Dickinson, was chosen to be one of the five trustees of Hopkins School of Hadley, a position which he resigned before 1686. This was a school donated to the town by Edward Hopkins, Esq., who died in March, 1657, and had by his will left a portion of his estate to trustees "to be disposed of by them, to give some encouragement in these foreign plantations for the breeding up of hopeful youths in a way of learning, both at the Grammar School and College, for the public service of the country in future times." In 1669 he was first chosen School Committee. He was the second Associate Judge from Hadley, chosen in 1680, which place he held for three years, and County Treasurer for about ten years. In the words of Lucius Root Eastman in his Genealogy of the Eastmans, published in 1867, Hon. Peter Tilton¹ was one of which can be said, "Few men had greater influence in Church or State. He was a man of God and one of the few who dared to conceal two of the Regicide Judges of Charles the First," an account of which can be found in the History of Hadley, in the Introduction by George Sheldon, which has also been published separately.

The will of Peter Tilton can be found at Northampton in the Probate Registry room, the original paper bearing his signature; it was made April 4, 1694. His property inventory is dated July 16, 1696, valued at £300 19s. 9d. There were fifty-one books valued at £6. 7s. 6d.

Among them were a Dalton's book, an old Law book, one Hildersham's book, one Senod book, one Rastell, one English Liberties, one Dictionary, one on Cotton on ye Canatels, one Lockar's book, one Resolves, one Prophecy on Dan, one Exposition of Gat, one Pemble's book, one great Bible, one Bible, one Concordance, one Pilgrim, one Foxes book, one Zealanders, one Annotations on ye Psalms, a Bible and Psalm book.

In those days books were not so easily obtained as now.

He was married three times. His children by first or second wife, Mary or Elizabeth:

2. i. Elizabeth², bapt. June 19, 1642; d. 1655.
- x, 3. ii. Mary², bapt. Feb. 18, 1643; married Joseph Eastman of Suffield, Conn. No. 34 in Introduction.
4. iii. Peter², bapt. Dec. 5, 1647; d. unm.

From which it will be seen that all the descendants of Peter Tilton were those of his daughter Mary.

We have seen that Peter Tilton was a godly man. In a letter to his wife dated 18d, 3 mo., 1672, he closes with these words:

"Remember me to mine and thine, with my love to all with you. I cannot forget you before the Father of Spirits night and day. The good will of Him that dwelt in the bush be with you, cause His face to shine upon you all, and give you peace. So prayeth still,

Yours unfeignedly to love,
Peter Tilton."

In a postscript he adds:

"My dear ones, forget not him who hath you all on his heart, and whose desire it is to leave himself and his all with that merciful high-priest who hath the keys of life and death.

Farewell, Farewell."

And, dear cousins, would he not say these same words to us now if here with us?

His home was occupied later by his grandson, Dea. Joseph Eastman¹, who died there in 1769. In 1770 Dea. Joseph Eastman's son John² lived there in a new house. In 1807 Joseph⁴ of John³ of Joseph² lived on the old homestead. It has now passed into the hands of other parties.

5. Lieut. Samuel Smith¹ was the great-grandfather of Mercy Smith, the wife of Dea. Joseph Eastman. The Sunderland History tells us that he with his wife Elizabeth and children, Samuel aged 9, Elizabeth 7, Mary 4, and Philip 1, sailed from Ipswich, England, April 30, 1634, landed at Boston in June, 1634, settled at Watertown and was admitted freeman Sept. 3, 1634. He soon removed to Wethersfield, Conn., of which town he was one of the most prominent citizens. He was Lieut. Deputy to the General Court in 1641, and in every year from 1643 to 1653, also in 1655 and 1656. He was one of the signers of the agreement to remove to Hadley, and became one of the founders of that town. He and his son Philip were among the men who had knowledge of the concealment of the Regicide Judges, Goffe and Whalley, in Hadley. From the history of Hadley we find in the Agreement as written, are found the names of seven men chosen by vote, to order all public occasions that concerned the good of that plantation for the ensuing year. One of them was Samuel Smith. In March, 1661, Jurors from the New Town first attended the Court. There were four, one of which was Samuel Smith.

By order of the General Court, May 22, 1661, the town was called Hadley. At this time commissioners were appointed and empowered to keep the Court appointed at Springfield and Northampton. The town of Hadley appointed three; one was Samuel Smith. In regard to the naming of the place, it was said to be named from Hadley, or Hadleigh, a town in England, situated a few miles west of Ipswich, from which place Grandfather Smith sailed for this country, and doubtless he knew much of this place in his early days.

Town measurers were first chosen in Hadley Dec. 31, 1660, and were Samuel Smith and Peter Tilton. On the 26th of March, 1669, he was chosen one of the trustees of the Hopkins School, the same date that Peter Tilton was chosen for the same office. In 1669 he was one of the first School Committee chosen; there were five, one other of which was Peter Tilton. Raters or assessors were chosen to make the rates Dec. 16, 1661. There were three, Samuel Smith and two others; later Peter Tilton was chosen.

For eight years he was an Associate Judge from Hadley. In 1675 and 1676 they were in peril from Indian wars. One of Capt. Appleton's sergeants died at the home of Lieut. Samuel Smith, and in 1676 his son John Smith, of Hatfield, was killed. He was our ancestor, too.

May 11, 1661, the town voted there should be training for a Militia. Samuel Smith was chosen Lieutenant, which position he held about fifteen years, including the trying times of King Philip's war. In May, 1678, Lieut. Smith requested to be freed from military trust, being then nearly eighty years of age. He was discharged, and his son Philip was then chosen Lieutenant.

In 1677 Lieut. Samuel Smith was empowered to solemnize marriages. In 1680 Peter Tilton became a magistrate with the same power. He was Deputie and Representative in 1661, 1663-65, 1667 and 1668, 1671, 1673, four of which years Peter Tilton served with him in the same office. He was Townsman, or Selectman, 1660-1668, 1672, 1676, 1678 and 1680.

His will was made June 23, 1680, and can be found at the Registry of Probate room in Northampton. The inventory was dated Jan. 17, 1681, valued at £600.11s. One clause of the will I copy:

"To each of my grandchildren living shall be given a Bible, and there shall be written in it by my executors, fairly and Legibly, the Last verse of the 11th chapter of Ecclesiastes and the first verse of the following chapter."

In 1687 John Smith, son of John Smith, slain by Indians in 1676, and Samuel Smith, son of Philip, owned and lived on his place.

His wife, Elizabeth, died March 16, 1686.

Children

6. i. Samuel², b. abt. 1625.
7. ii. Elizabeth², b. abt. 1627.
8. iii. Mary², b. abt. 1630.

9. iv. Philip², b. abt. 1633.

These first four came from England.

10. v. Chileab², b. abt. 1635.
 x, 11. vi. John², who was grandfather of Mercy Smith. He was slain by Indians in the Hatfield meadows, May 30, 1676. He married abt. 1663, Mary Partridge, daug. of William. No. 27 in Introduction.

Their children were:

- x, 12. i. John³, b. May 15, 1665, afterward known as the Orphan John.
 13. ii. Samuel³, b. Dec. 7, 1667; d. June 19, 1681.
 14. iii. Joseph³, b. Nov. 16, 1670. He was of Hatfield.
 15. iv. Benjamin³, b. 1673; settled in Wethersfield, Conn.
 16. v. Marah³, b. 1677; m. John Day.
 12. John Smith, the eldest, was called Orphan John. He died abt. 1724; married abt. 1687, Mary, daug. of John Root of Westfield, Mass. In 1687 he lived on the place of his grandfather, Lieut. Samuel Smith, and he was a selectman in 1702, 1709, 1715, 1720, 1723.

Children

17. i. A son⁴, b. and d. the same day, 1688.
 18. ii. Mary⁴, b. May 7, 1689; m. Thomas Sheldon.
 19. iii. Abigail⁴, b. Oct. 26, 1691; m. John Montague.
 x, 20. iv. Mercy⁴, b. July 3, 1694; m. Nov. 22, 1711, to Dea. Joseph Eastman. No. 39 in Introduction.
 21. v. John⁴, b. Feb. 1, 1697; m. Elizabeth ——.
 22. vi. Rachel⁴, b. Aug. 4, 1699; m. John Smith.
 23. vii. Hezekiah⁴, b. Dec. 21, 1702; m. Dorcas Dickinson.
 24. viii. Noah⁴, b. May 16, 1707; m. Mary ——.

14. Joseph Smith³, brother of Orphan John Smith, married Canada Waite, daug. of Benjamin Waite. She was born in Canada, one of the babes born in captivity, her mother being taken captive at Hatfield and taken to Canada, from which place they were released after a ransom being paid. They were the grandparents of Oliver Smith⁶, who was distinguished for his wealth and the trusts he created under his will for the benefit of the poor in several towns in Hampshire and Franklin County, Mass.

One of their great granddaughters, Sophia Smith, was the founder of Smith C., Northampton, Mass.

Their sixth child, Esther, married Jonathan Field, and was the grandmother of Martin Field, who was the grandfather of Eugene Field, the poet. No. 928.

There are several other families who are connected with Lieut. Samuel Smith by marriage.

Experience Smith, who married Mercy Eastman, No. 5, is a descendant of Philip Smith.

Josiah Smith, who married Abigail Eastman, No. 8, is a descendant of Chileab Smith.

Enos Smith, who married Polly Dickinson, No. 100, granddaughter of Mary Eastman, No. 1, is a descendant of Chileab Smith.

The family of Martin and Esther (Kellogg) Field, No. 142, are descendants of John Smith and Philip Smith.

There are also the families of:

Charles Eastman, No. 187.

Hinsdale Smith, No. 537.

Mercy E. Smith, No. 67.

whose lines I have not traced, but are from Lieut. Samuel Smith.

John Smith, slain by Indians in Hatfield, married Mary Partridge, daug. of William Partridge, who was also one of the founders of Hadley in 1659.

Mr. Partridge came from Berwick upon Tweed, England; was an early settler of Hartford, Conn., whence he removed to Hadley, where he died in 1668. He married in 1644, Mary Smith of Hartford, the sister of Christopher of Northampton, Joseph of Hartford, whose eldest son Joseph removed to Hadley in 1680, Simeon and William.

25. William¹ and Mary(Smith) Partridge had two children:

26. i. Samuel², born in 1645, who was a Representative, a Colonel of the Regiment, Judge of Probate, and one of his Majesty's Council, and the most important man, after the death of Col. Pyncheon in 1703, in all the western part of the Province.

x, 27. ii. Mary², who married John Smith. No. 11 in introduction.

William Partridge was one of the first auditors in Hadley, with Peter Tilton. Jan. 27, 1663, he was chosen constable. His business was that of a cooper, and he was a trader with the Indians. He was selectman in 1668, the year of his death.

The Eastmans recorded in introduction are all from Guy H. Rix's work.

The earliest found record of the Eastmans is of John Eastman, of Romsey, county Southampton; will dated Sept. 24, 1602, proved Oct. 22, 1602; to be buried in church at Romsey.

"To son Roger Eastman all lands whatsoever in default, to son John, also Roger, 100 marke at 14, to be paid by my father Roger Eastman, to my son John 50 pounds at 14, to daughter Elizabeth and Margaret when 21 or married 40 pounds each. Ditto to child my wife now goith with, to servant Elizabeth Head 5 pounds. Residuary legate and executrix, wife Anne, overseers, Roger Eastman, Michael Mackall and Mathew Mundsey.

John Eastman.

Witnesses:

Walter Godfrey

Giles Newe

Thomas Stote."

The first of the name coming to America was Roger and Thomas Eastman. Thomas returned to England, while Roger, who was born in Wales, England, in 1611, came from Langford, county of Wilts, sailing from Southampton in April, 1638, in the ship "Confidence," John Jobson, master, bound for Massachusetts Bay Colony. On the ship's papers he was entered as a servant of John Saunders. It is believed that on account of the emigration laws, or for political reasons, his real rank was higher than appears.

Many traditions have been handed down, but it is believed that Roger Eastman was the sole ancestor of all the Eastmans in America. The name has been spelled "Easman" even by members of the same family. No record of his marriage has been found, or of his wife's full name, and it is only by tradition that we suppose it to be Smith.

28. Roger Eastman married Sarah Smith (?), born in 1621. He settled in Salisbury, Mass., and received lands in the first division in Salisbury in 1640. His minister's tax in 1650 was 8s. 3d. From Salisbury the family dispersed; his son Philip went to Ashford, Ct., Joseph settled temporarily in Suffield, Ct., but soon removed to Hadley, Mass.; the third generation, however, settled further north, following up the valley of the Merrimack River, while others settled further south, in Massachusetts, and Connecticut and others in Maine. From these places they scattered over the United States and Canada.

Roger Eastman died in Salisbury, Mass., Dec. 16, 1694. His wife died March 11, 1697.

Children

29. i. John², b. Jan. 9, 1640; m. 1st Oct. 27, 1665, Hannah Healey; 2d Nov. 5, 1670, Mary Boynton; he d. in Salisbury, Mass., March 25, 1720. One of his descendants was Daniel Webster⁵, (Abigail Eastman⁵, Roger⁴, John³, John², Roger Eastman¹). (Daniel Webster⁶ was of Ebenezer⁶ of Salisbury, N. H., Ebenezer⁴ of Kingston, N. H., Ebenezer³, Thomas², Thomas Webster¹ of England.)

30. ii. Nathaniel², b. May 18, 1643; m. April 30, 1672, Elizabeth Hudson; he d. in Salisbury, Mass., Nov. 30, 1709.

31. iii. Philip², b. Dec. 30, 1644; m. 1st —; 2d Aug. 22, 1678, widow Mary Morse; he d. before 1714.

32. iv. Thomas², b. Nov. 11, 1646; m. Jan. 20, 1679, Deborah Corlis; he d. in Haverhill, Mass., April 29, 1688. One of his descendants was Guy Scoby Rix⁸, who has furnished us with what records he had of our branch. He was born in Littleton, N. H., Nov. 12, 1828, being therefore 73 years of age when he published the Eastman Genealogy, it being the second one published. The first was by Rev. Lucius Root Eastman, No. 360, published in 1867. Mr. Rix⁸ was of Guy Carleton Rix⁷, Rebecca Eastman⁶, Obadiah⁵, William⁴, Jonathan³, Thomas², Roger¹.

33. v. Timothy², b. Nov. 29, 1648; m. 1682, Lydia Markham; he d. in Hadley, Mass., April 1, 1733.

x, 34. vi. Joseph², b. Jan. 8, 1651; m. Mary Tilton. No. 3 in introduction.

35. vii. Benjamin², b. Feb. 12, 1652-3; m. 1st, April 5, 1678, widow Ann Joy; 2d, April 4, 1699, Naomi Flanders; 3d, Oct. 5, 1719, Sarah Carter. He d. in Salisbury in 1728.

36. viii. Sarah², b. Sept. 25, 1655; m. 1st, June 13, 1678, Joseph French; 2d, Aug. 2, 1684, Solomon Shepherd. She d. Dec. 1, 1745.

37. ix. Samuel², b. Nov. 29, 1657; m. Nov. 4, 1686, Elizabeth Scriven; he d. Feb. 27, 1725, at Kingston, N. H.

38. x. Ruth², b. March 21, 1660; m. prob. May 23, 1690, Benjamin Heard.

34. Joseph Eastman², (Roger¹), was born in Salisbury, Mass., Jan. 8, 1651. He served in King Philip's war, Dec. 1675, at Chelmsford, Mass. He took the oath of allegiance and fidelity at Salisbury in 1677. He was a weaver at Suffield and Hadley, to which place he moved as early as 1682. He married Mary Tilton, daughter of Hon. Peter Tilton. He died April, 1692, and his widow married second, Feb. 17, 1693, James Guernsey, and removed to New Jersey. The record of his children's birth has also been found at Suffield, Ct. The inventory of his property is recorded at Northampton, Mass., dated April 7, 1692, valued at £249 13s. 9d.

Children

x, 39. i. Joseph³, b. in Hadley, Mass., Aug. 2, 1683.

40. ii. Mary³, b. Dec. 11, 1684; d. April 10, 1685.

41. iii. Peter³, b. Jan. 20, 1686; m. Nov. 28, 1708, Mehitable Root. From his descendants we have George Washington Eastman⁷, Harvey⁶, Hezekiah⁵, Joseph⁴, Peter³, Joseph² Roger¹. He was a founder of the Rochester Business College in 1842. His son George⁸ is president of the Eastman Kodak Company, of Rochester, N. Y. We have also Harvey Gridley Eastman, founder of Eastman's Business College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was of Horace H.⁷, Harvey⁶, Hezekiah⁵, Joseph⁴, Peter³, Joseph², Roger¹.

Trusting that this I have gleaned will be of interest, I will add only this. I have numbered the following generations, giving Dea. Joseph Eastman as one.

From Roger Eastman he is the third.

From Peter Tilton he is the third.

From Lieut. Samuel Smith, Mercy, wife of Dea. Joseph Eastman, is the fourth generation.

From William Partridge she is the fourth.

Those numbered 2 are the first generation from Dea. Joseph Eastman, the following generations in like manner.

Yours most sincerely,

M. EMILY EASTMAN.

First Generation

Dea. Joseph Eastman¹ and ³, (Joseph², Roger¹,) was b. in Hadley, Mass., Aug. 2, 1683; m. Nov. 22, 1711, Mercy Smith, b. July 3, 1694. He d. in Hadley, Sept. 29, 1769. She d. Jan. 10, 1784, in her 90th year.

Joseph Eastman was a student with Rev. Mr. Williams at Deerfield, Mass., when that place was burned by Indians. He was three years a captive of the French government in Canada, captured Feb. 29, 1704, and on his return settled on his grandfather Tilton's estate in Hadley. In the final settlement of his father's estate, Jan. 1, 1705, he was given a double portion, amounting to £50. 9s. 3d., and mention made of his being "now in captivity." He was a deacon of the church in Hadley for many years, a staunch friend of Elder Edwards and endorsed his views. He served as selectman in 1727, 1730, 1732, 1734, 1736, 1738, 1740, 1743 and 1747. Partial accounts of the Deerfield Massacre of 1704 are found in the History of Hadley, and also of Deerfield. One of the descendants of Rev. Mr. Williams also wrote a book describing the long march to Canada and the trials of captivity.

He Grad. from Dartmouth C. in 1796, studied for the ministry, and was ordained pastor of the First Congregational Church at Randolph Center, Vt. David H. Nutting, M. D., a man 78 years old, who was for 22 years a medical missionary in Eastern and Central Turkey, is now clerk of the church, and has care of the records, writes that Rev. Tilton Eastman was ordained June 2, 1801, the second pastor of the church. At that service (Mr. Nutting has been told) prayer was offered by Rev. Aaron Cleveland, who was then preaching in the adjoining town of Braintree. Mr. Cleveland is said to have been a near kin of ex-President Grover Cleveland. Mr.

Eastman remained pastor of the church till May 25, 1830, he having (on account of his health) resigned March 19, 1830. He owned a house and farm near the village, and continued to live there and preach occasionally until his death. He was highly esteemed by his parishioners and by contemporary ministers in the State. Mr. Nutting remembers hearing him preach, and also has several of his sermons in Mr. Eastman's own handwriting, and the diploma given Mr. Eastman at Dartmouth C. His daughters, Eunice and Mary, continued to live there till their decease. The house which Mr. Eastman built and lived in many years is still standing and in good repair.

She d. in 1891, and he m. second, in 1892, Mrs. Mary M. Wilson, of Gallipolis, who survives him, and is now living at Hotel Vendome, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Nash was educated at Gallia Acad., Gallipolis, Ohio, and finished at Marietta C., Marietta, Ohio. On June 1, 1861, he entered the United States service as telegraph operator, and became confidential cipher operator for General McClellan until Nov., 1862. The reason he was selected for this position dates back to his college days. When there, he was around the telegraph office and much interested in its workings, and when the operator went on his wedding trip he left him in charge. On his return he noticed that he was taking the messages by sound instead of reading from the indented paper. When the war broke out and Colonel Fuller was put in charge of the telegraph corps, they found that men must be had who could read by sound; they remembered Mr. Nash and went for him. He found he could not remain where he was, so, through friends, of whom John Sherman was the principal one, he was given his position, and from that went on until he reached the highest position in his department.

In 1862 (Nov. 28th), he was commissioned a Commissary of Subsistence in the volunteer army, with rank of Captain, and served in that capacity until Dec. 15, 1865, when he was appointed Commissary of Subsistence in the regular army, with rank of Captain. He was on the staff of General Crook during the war, and they were close friends during life. President McKinley was also on General Crook's staff at the same time. It was President McKinley who made him Commissary General, and who also retired him a few weeks before the age limit (64 years) on account of his being almost helpless from sciatic rheumatism contracted during the Civil war.

On July 14, 1890, he was promoted to Major, and Lieut.-Col. June 10, 1896; he was promoted to Colonel and Assistant Commissary General Feb. 4, 1898, and on April 21, 1898, was promoted Commissary General of Subsistence in the regular army, with the rank of Brig. General of U. S. A. He was retired May 2, 1898, and went to Columbus, Ohio; was an invalid until his death, which occurred Dec. 2, 1902.

x 881. Joseph Eastman⁶, (Rilus⁵, Joseph⁴, John³, Joseph² Dea. Joseph¹), b. in Bleecker, Fulton Co., N. Y., Jan. 29, 1841; m. in 1868, Mary K. Barker. Dr. Eastman's early education was confined to winter schools and night study. On reaching the age of 18 he became a proficient blacksmith, having commenced to learn the trade when 15.

At the breaking out of the Civil war, early in 1861, he enlisted as a private in the 77th N. Y. Vols.; went to the front and took part in four battles. After the battle of Williamsburg he became a victim of fever, and was sent to Mt. Pleasant Hospital, Washington, D. C.; after his recovery, Dr. Charles A. McCall and Dr. Harrison Allen placed him on medical duty at that hospital, later having him discharged from his regiment, and having him appointed Hospital Steward in the U. S. Army. Through the favors of these doctors he was permitted to attend three years of medical lectures in the University of Georgetown, from which he Grad. in 1865.

He then passed the army examination, and was commissioned Assistant Surgeon in the U. S. Vols., and served in that capacity until May, 1866, when he was mustered out of the service at Nashville, Tenn. On his way home from the army he stopped at Indianapolis and located in a country village a few miles west of the city, where he followed the general practice of medicine and surgery for a period of nine years. In 1870-71 he attended a course of lectures in Bellevue Medical C., where he Grad. in 1871.

At the solicitation of Drs. Parvin and Walker he accepted the position of Demonstrator of Anatomy in the C. of Physicians and Surgeons in Indianapolis, locating in that city in November, 1875. Soon after he was appointed consulting Surgeon to the City Hospital, a position he held for nine years, delivering lectures on Clinical Surgery during that time. During this time he assisted Prof. Parvin, now of Philadelphia, in most of his gynecological operations.

In 1879 Dr. Eastman was one of the organizers of the Central C. of Physicians and Surgeons of Indianapolis, accepting the Chair of Anatomy and Clinical Surgery. After having taught anatomy in the two colleges for seven sessions, a special chair was established in the last named institution, that of Diseases of Women and Abdominal Surgery, which he held at the time of his death. He was also president of the C. when he d. For the last twenty years of his life his practice was absolutely limited to diseases of women and abdominal surgery. During this period he had opened the abdominal cavity over 3200 times, and performed hysterectomy, suprapubic and infrapubic, over 120 times. Dr. Eastman was the second in the world, and the only American surgeon, who, in operating for extra-uterine pregnancy, had dissected out the entire sac which contained a living child, and saved the life of both mother and child.

While doing general surgery he exsected the knee joint five times, with five recoveries with five useful limbs, and performed lithotomy five times in the male, with five recoveries.

At the beginning of his special work he visited the hospitals of Europe, critically examining the methods of distinguished operators in the department of Diseases of Women and Abdominal Surgery, in London, Birmingham, Paris, Strasbourg, Munich, Leipsic, Dresden, Halle and Berlin.

In 1891, in recognition of his original professional work, the degree LL. D. was conferred upon him by Wabash C., the first and only time in the history of this old institution that this honor was given to a medical man. Although Dr. Eastman performed hundreds of operations, yet his sympathies were never blunted. His patients found him a friend as well as a physician. It is a well known fact that when he was alarmed about a patient he could neither eat nor sleep, and at these times he walked the floor, vigilant and wakeful always.

The following extracts are from a sketch by Samuel E. Earp, M. S., M. D., of Indianapolis, Ind., in the Medical and Surgical Monitor:

"In 1866, after being mustered out in Nashville, Tenn., he engaged in general practice of medicine and surgery, first in Clermont, and later in Brownsburg, Ind.

"In 1871, he Grad. from Bellevue Hospital Medical C., and located in Indianapolis in 1875.

"From 1886 his practice was limited to diseases of women and abdominal surgery. He has been the possessor of a large and modern private sanatorium in North Delaware St., Indianapolis, No. 331, of which now (1908) his sons, Dr. Thomas B. and Dr. Joseph Rilus, have charge.

"It was characteristic of Dr. Eastman to extend a helping hand to the fallen, speak a word of encouragement to those groping darkly in the slough of despond, grant mercy to the erring one, and throw the mantle of charity over the unfortunate.

"For years the younger members of the profession have sought his counsel, and in fact, the older ones have relied upon his wisdom and judgment, and in every quarter his eminence and greatness have received recognition.

"He was president of the Central C. of Physicians and Surgeons for 24 years; it is located one-half square north of the State House. He was trustee and M. D., LL. D. Of the faculty he was Prof. of Abdominal Surgery and Diseases of Women.

"His sons are Thomas B., A. B., M. D., Clinical Prof., the same as his father; Joseph Rilus, B. S., M. D., Prof. of Surgery and Genito Urinary Diseases."

Dr. Eastman was made a Mason in 1863; was a Knight Templar, thirty-third degree Mason, and a member of the G. A. R. He d. in the prime of his usefulness, June 5, 1902.

On her 65th birthday a party of friends met with them and the following poem by Mr. Draper, dedicated to his wife, was read:

MR. DRAPER'S TRIBUTE

Away down east 'mid snow capped hills,
With bubbling springs and sparkling rills,
In Granite State, a thousand miles away,
Our honored guest first saw the light of day.

Her parents, strong and kind and true
Nursed well their little one,
With suited food and proper care,
And exercise in healthful air.

They also saw her youthful mind
 To books and authors much inclined,
 So they resolved to find some way
 To give her mental traits fair play.

So when the proper age arrived,
 She to a school was sent,
 In Wheaton town not far away,
 Her mind on learning bent.

When graduating day at length had come,
 And I was busy in my way,
 A letter came informing me
 Of Wheaton's graduating day.

And also making a request
 That I should try to come.
 Of course I heeded that behest,
 Forgetting many things at home.

Now when the nuptial day arrived
 On which we were intent,
 Who should perform the act, and "give the charge,"
 But the old, much honored president.

The blessing asked, the charges given,
 To me he turned and said,
 What'er mistakes you've made in life,
 In this ther's no mistake you've made.

Three and forty years have passed
 Since that eventful day,
 When the old college president
 Assured me in his pleasing way.

I've found the truth in what he said,
 And think of him the more,
 Though he is numbered with the dead,
 Transferred to the eternal shore.

My wife and I the noonday mark have passed;
 Our years grow short, our strength grows less;
 May we grow wise as we grow old
 And seek for strength in righteousness.
